Could you use a FINANCIAL COACH for your family?

Marriage and Money – Creating a Rich Future Together

Sunday, April 26, 2009 Boston, MA – 10:00am-4:00pm

Money Management 101 for Couples is here . . .

Because couples who save together, stay together!

Designed with the current economy in mind, this course will help you recession proof your family finances.

- Are you and your spouse aligned on how to manage your finances?
- Could you use some more money to help pay the bills each month?
- Do you feel confident that you're taking the right financial steps for your family?

On Sunday, April 26th, get the tools and advice you need to keep your relationship financially and emotionally rewarding. Join this special couples-only course in Boston led by Belinda Fuchs, President of OwnYourMoney.com. In one surprisingly enjoyable day, you will receive all you need to:

- Understand your partner's attitude about money and become a unified team in managing your money.
- Manage your spending, increase your savings, and establish financial security for your family with proven, practical tips and techniques.
- Prioritize and create an action plan to build your healthy and wealthy financial foundation.

Achieve the success of other couples who have worked with Belinda:

"My wife dragged me here; I'm so glad she did. It has opened the financial communication between us that hasn't been there in over 16 years of marriage. Now I'm interested in being involved and know we are heading toward financial independence." ~ Frank, Software Architect

"Belinda brings a playfulness and levity to money management that is uniquely appealing. My wife and I now relate to each other as partners on the same team instead of always feeling like we're fighting about money. We are now on the same page in a way that we have never been despite 17 years of dating and marriage. Belinda is terrific!" ~ Jim, Director Sales & Marketing

To ensure personalized attention, this special course is LIMITED to 10 couples.

Recession special: $499 per couple. 100% Money-back Guarantee!
